First Time in Pittsburgh Music History! Docs That Rock Live Event to Benefit Our Clubhouse

Pittsburgh, PA, June 27, 2016 – Announcing a star-studded rock event to benefit Our Clubhouse, an organization providing comfort, care and hope to those touched by cancer.

Watch as local doctors and healthcare professionals perform live onstage with members from Guns N' Roses, Alice Cooper, Joe Walsh, Crosby Stills Nash & Young, The Monkees, Billy Squier and Black Label Society at Stage AE on October 26, 2016. Then enjoy an all-star performance featuring Lou Gramm, the original voice of Foreigner. All coming together to raise awareness of the free emotional and social support services provided by Our Clubhouse. During the evening, we will also celebrate the 10-year anniversary of Our Clubhouse.

Docs That Rock is the dream of Pamela and Jeff Morris, who have personal experience with Our Clubhouse and wanted to give back in an exciting way. "It's most important to us to let every cancer patient, caregiver and family member know that they can find support at Our Clubhouse. We're fortunate that some amazing musicians and doctors want to help us get this message out through the use of music," said Pam Morris.

When talking about the excitement of this fundraising event, Teddi Horvitz, Executive Director for Our Clubhouse says, "This is such an exciting event for Our Clubhouse. This is the first time for such an event, and we are so grateful to have the opportunity to collaborate with Pam and Jeff Morris, and many well-known musicians."

Docs That Rock is being held at Stage AE, on the North Shore, on October 26, 2016. For more information, visit docsthatrock.org.
